THE Independente says that four Chinese were seized in Macao on the night of the 27th October on suspicion of being concorned with a band of pirates. They are now detained in the Gaol. In the house where they were apprehended, two revolvers, a dagger, and a few dollars were also found, said to belong to the prisoners. On the arrival of the s. s. Triumph from Pakhoi this morning, Sergeant Harkin of the Water Police went on board and arrested a woman on the charge of bringing a girl, of whom she had charge, into the Colony for an immoral purpose. The Police had received information that the girl had been purchased in Pakhoi. The case came before Mr Wodehouse to-day, and was remanded till Friday, defendant being admitted to bail in two sureties of $250

The new water supply from Tytam is expected to be partly available before the end of this week, although the work in connection with the big undertaking is still a long way from completion. By the addition to the present supply now to be made the portion of the City cast of Garden 1816 Road will be provided with Tytam water, and so also will Queen's Road, the main pipe of which is connected with the new supply by a pipe laid along Garden Road. It is not intended, we understand, to

of the new supply by any ceremony. A PRETTY sharp skirmish took place the other day near Kap-si-mun between some Chinese Customs people and the craws of three smuggling junks. The junks, being Hongkong, to Emma Risnorough, daughter pursued by a Customs launch, were run of H. Risborough Sharman, Barrister-at- ashore, and the crews, who were armed, kept up a smart fusilade from behind the rocks against those on board the launch, after which they escaped. A considerable quantity of opium was found on the junks, One of the crew of the launch sustained a remarkable gun-shot wound. He had been shot in the thigh, and on his being examined at the Alice Memorial Hospital by Dr Cantlie it was found that the bullet, entering the outside of the thigh, had passed clean through, avoiding bone and artery alike.

In connection with the recent seizure of 130 lbs. of contraband opium made by an excise officer while it was being carried along the Praya by two coolies, Leung Ngan, seaman, who was charged the other day with being in possession of the drug, was brought before Mr Wodehouse to-day. Defendant said he made the acquaintance of the man to whom the opium belonged on board the steamer and did not know anything about the contents of the baskets. He had been asked to look after them, and the other man, who was going to the same boarding house with defendant, had disappeared. His Worship discharged, the defendant and ordered the opium to be de tained, pending his decision as to the ultimate disposal of it.

THE Singapore Free Press, referring to our account of the arrest of Mr Townsend in Manila, and after telling how that gentleties being persuaded that he had cholera morbus, and how they afterwards wished to put him in the native hospital, goes on to say :- 'It is said that the proceedings in question were sanctioned by two local judges, who were already under orders to leave for home, and that while one of these subsequently acknowledged, on considering the representations made to him on behalf of Mr Townsend, that there was no ground whatever for the interference of the Spanish authorities, the other legal official proved more obdurate, and argument was in this quarter apparently of no avail. We are given to understand that not only are the English community indignant at the brusque treatment of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank Agent, but a large proportion of Spanish residents have expressed entire ward GERMAN MAIL, dated Berlin, 2nd sympathy with him in the matter.'

SUNDAY ON BOARD SHIP. In his Church Congress paper on the Church's duty to merchant seamen, Commander Dawson, R.N. dealt on the religious difficulties of the crews, and asked -Do we grasp the fact that not one of our 36,000 merchant ships carries a chaplain that no clergyman ever ministers on board the greater number of them; that in at least 20,000 British ships there is no assembling together for united worship, the Lord's Day not being marked by any public act of prayer and praise; that even where in some ships Divine worship is conducted for the sake of passengers, the crews are not always permitted to share in it; that the rare instances of a clerical passenger voluntarily exercising personal ministry in the forecastle do not amount to one voyage in a thousand? One of the greatest hindrances to religious worship on board merchant ships both at sea and in port, is the practice of unnecessary Sunday work affoat in colonial and foreign harbours. Brazil, with its normous unsettled areas and the general fertility of its soil, and the tropical character of a great part of its territory, would protobly absorb twice as many Chinese as either the United States or Australia. Unfortunately South and Central America The P. & O. steamer Rawning arrived stink in the Chinese nostrils after the exposé a few years ago respecting the treatment of Chinese in the guand mines and nitrate deposits of Peru, and the plantations of Cuba; but there is no comparison between Brazil and Peru or Cuba. The idea may be commended to Chang Chihtung, who is the only high Chinese official we have ever heard of that exhibits an interest in the subject. Judging by his memorial to the Throne, on the result of the Commission sent to study the condition of the Chinese abroad, he does not want his arrogant countrymen back, and would prefer to see many of them abroad. He prophesies that the Lama will never drink out of the cups, and that the intropid traveller will not succeed in socing him. Proceeding for some time in this strain, he goes on to state that the most original and most interesting moduct of Thibet are the Yaks, a species of cow celebrated for their milk. Unfortunately they only live in the higher mountains, as they do not thrive in the valleys or plains; in fact, they die if they descend below 3,000 metres!
